

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVE., SEPT. 10, 1884.

There is talk of an independent Republican organization in Ohio to support Cleveland.

Ex-Governor Hendricks addressed about 8,000 Democrats at Muncie, Ind., on Saturday.

The Potters' Gazette, at East Liverpool, Ohio, has changed its politics and come out square for Cleveland and reform. This paper has large influence in its locality.

The imports of specie from the port of New York for the week ending Saturday, were $109,300, making a total since January 1st, of $1,039,007, against $10,670,398 last year.

JOHN KELLY made a speech at Tammany Hall Saturday night in which he said that the organization was Democratic to the core and it must give the national ticket loyal support.

The statistical agent for Nebraska has forwarded his report of the condition of crops up to September 1. The average condition of corn is 106 per cent.; wheat, 100; rye, 100; oats, 93; barley, 96. So little wheat has been threshed it is difficult to make a correct estimate, but it is estimated to be about 27,000,000 bushels.

The formation of the highwine pool, restricting production and maintaining prices at a remunerative basis, believes the Kentucky manufacturers of the serious element of competition on rectified refined whisky at prices below the cost producing age goods, and materially improves the now promising outlook of the trade.

The Republican campaign managers and the Civil Service Commissioners are having a nip-and-tuck time. The former propose to assess members of the State associations in Washington $5 each, and Commissioner Eaton, in reply to an anxious inquirer, repeats his former advice to clerks not to permit themselves to be frightened into contributing unwillingly for political objects.

The Treasury Department received a letter from Dr. Hill, United States Health Officer at London, suggesting that the importation of rags into this country from England is fraught with great danger. Small-pox, he says, is said to have been prevalent in London, where quantities of rags are collected and shipped to America, and large quantities of continental rags are forwarded to London for shipment to American ports.

Mr. DANIEL, the candidate for the Vice Presidency on the St. John ticket, makes the following statement. That it is true we have not the shadow of a doubt. Hear him: "It is true that overtures have been made to Gov. St. John to withdraw. He told me no later than Monday last that he had been approached by men of position and influence who had offered him hope, considerations, and inducements if he would consent to withdraw his letter of acceptance and decline the nomination. This much having been said to me in confidence, I am of course not at liberty to mention names or the considerations offered. Were I to do so it might create a sensation. It is enough to say that the approaches were spurned, and if any idea of withdrawing had been previously broached among ourselves the action in question would have been sufficient to have warranted us as men in remaining in this campaign to the bitter end."

He Won't Talk.

The Courier-Journal says: It seems that Republican brewers, perhaps surmising that Mr. Blaine's prohibition record in Maine was intended only for that State, have been endeavoring to get an expression from him as to his views on summary legislation. But Mr. Blaine is not to be caught. He does not intend to antagonize the Prohibitionists by declaring opposition to summary laws. His policy is to say nothing on the question now, trusting to his friends to make him a Prohibitionist in Maine, and an upholder of a man's right to drink beer in Ohio. The Journal, the organ of the brewers, is not satisfied with this, and thus boils:

"In the July number of the Journal it was editorially stated that an endeavor had been made by the editor to obtain from Mr. Blaine an expression of his views on the subject. Since that publication several interviews have been had with Mr. Blaine, and the Journal, the trusted Lieutenant of the Republic, has not only refused to give an answer to the question, but has refused to give an answer to the question. We therefore say that Mr. Blaine is not entitled to the support of the brewers and those who have kindred interest with him, and that it is the duty of the brewers to make him a Prohibitionist to insure his defeat."

The contrast between the letter of Governor Cleveland with Mr. Blaine's on this question is very marked. In the letter of the latter he refers to the action of summary laws with no uncertain sound, and he is entitled to receive the assistance of a reliable newspaper editor.

A HERO'S DEED.

Horribly Burned He Does Not Forget to Save a Country of Victims.

FLORANCE, Pa., Sept. 10.—The Florence coal breaker at Pleasant Valley, was destroyed by fire Monday night. The fire originated in the engine room where the pump runner, James Layman, was filling a lantern lamp from a can of kerosene. The flame came in contact with the oil, and in a few minutes the whole structure was ablaze. Lynch's clothing was saturated with the oil and he was threatened with a horrible death. He jumped into a barrel of water close by and drenched his flaming garments, only to find the flesh hanging in shreds from his breast and shoulders.

Just then he remembered that a party of visitors, including three gentlemen and five ladies, were in the tower of the breaker, and although the flames were rushing through the carriage-way, Lynch, forgetful of his own peril, half naked and terribly scorched, ran up the steps to warn them. He met the party descending and they had a narrow escape, some of the clothing of the ladies being slightly scorched. When they emerged from the foot of the tower it was a veritable inferno of fire, standing about 100 feet in height, and scattering large clouds in all directions. The conflagration of Lynch, whose death is hourly expected, is warmly greeted. The blaze ignited a number of tenements near by, but the united efforts of the miners and firemen prevented their destruction.

The breaker cost $50,000 and was insured for $35,000. Two hundred men and boys are thrown out of work.

LOST IN THE FOREST.

A Woman Submits Forty-Six Days on Grass.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The ability of a human being to exist for a long period without natural food has been again demonstrated in a recent instance which has been investigated with much interest by the authorities. A peasant woman lost her way in a Bohemian forest and was unable to return to her home. She wandered many miles and at length sank down exhausted, and was unconscious and unable to respond when her neighbors went through the forest looking and calling for her. She remained in this condition for a month for her life was in vain, and at the end of a month all hope of finding her alive was abandoned. On the forty-sixth day after she had been lost she was discovered by accident. The poor woman was still alive, but in a most pitiable condition. She had subsisted entirely by eating the leaves and berries and by eating grass. When found she was surrounded by a number of half-famished foxes evidently awaiting the death of their expector prey.

POLITICAL PROGRAMME.

The New York Star Tells How the Office Will be Divided.

New York, Sept. 10.—The Star says there was a secret conference between friends of President Arthur and ex-Senator Blaine in the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, and the report was taken to prevent the proceedings from being made public, but the following facts leaked out: The gentlemen in question were Mr. Stewart, ex-Senator Conkling, will be at once abandoned. The old guard will take an active interest in the campaign, the price for each action being an agreement to appoint Postmaster General Sherman to the position of Secretary of the Treasury, and the death of Mr. Stewart. It was also agreed that the Secretary and the naval office of this port must to the friends of President Arthur. The action was taken when President Arthur arrived in this city on route for Geneva his consent was obtained to the above programme.

Prospect That the Railroads Will Maintain Good Passenger Rates. CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—The prospect running East from this city will be fully represented at the meeting of General Passenger Agents to be held at Indianapolis to consider the question of maintaining the present rates. The indications point more favorably to an adjustment of the difficulties than they did a few days ago. It is hoped that something may be done toward a final adjustment of the troubles. It has been the opinion heretofore that Great Trunk and Western roads, not in the old pool, would not be represented at the Indianapolis meeting. But these roads have finally decided to send a representative, and they state that if a proper price is displayed and a fair treatment accorded them, they will join in a new agreement for the future maintenance of rates.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 10.—A shocking double tragedy happened here Monday. As two orphan girls, aged fourteen and fifteen years, respectively, named Nellie Devlin and Carolina Solovay, were returning to St. Stevens Hospital, bringing pills of water to the institution, they were assaulted by an Italian man, who, living in a tenement at St. Stevens. He drew a pistol and fired two shots at the girls. The first wounded Carolina Solovay and the second shot entered the chest of Nellie Devlin, passing through her body and killing her instantly. The boy ran into a secluded place on the grounds and shot himself through the right breast, dying in five minutes. He purchased the revolver in the morning showing entire premeditation. KILLING HER CHILDREN

The Murderous Work of a Frenzied Mother.

An Elder Daughter Fatally Wounded in Defending a Younger Sister—A Husband's Desperate Struggle with a Maniacal Wife.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Joseph Thompson, a Norwegian fisherman, lives in Stapleton, South Carolina, with his ten children and his wife. The eldest daughter, who is nearly years old—Mamie, was married to Wm. Scott, a lively stable keeper, a year ago, and lives close to her mother. She is very popular among the young people of the neighborhood. Mrs. Thompson is a large and fleshy woman, about fifty years old. Lately it has been noted that she was acting strangely at times. She appeared despondent and fretful. The warm weather of the past few days seemed to affect her. Katie, the next daughter to Mamie, went home last night and complained somewhat because supper was not ready. Mrs. Thompson flew into a violent passion, attacked Katie, threw her down, and began beating her unmercifully. The other children shrieked, and Mamie hurried over to her mother and begged her to spare Katie. Mrs. Thompson picked up a large bread knife and plunged it into Mamie's neck, almost severing the jugular vein. Mamie rushed from the room, and was seen pouring from the wound in a stream, the walls of the stairway and hall through which she ran being spattered. Mr. Thompson met Mamie at the threshold as she came out late the street.

"Run and save the children," she cried to him. "Mother is crazy and is killing them." Her father hurried in and found Katie, who had fainted, on the floor. Her mother stood over her with the knife clenched and staring glaringly at her. She rushed at her husband, who had a fierce struggle with her, and after some minutes succeeded in taking the knife away from her. Dr. Water was summoned, who attended Mamie's wounds, and thinks she will die from loss of blood. Mrs. Thompson was taken to police headquarters, where she was put under guard. She was unresponsive and crying continually. Her mind is unquestionably affected.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

The Republican Plurality Upwards of 15,000.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 10.—The Republican ticket was elected by a plurality approximately 15,000. Two hundred and sixty-seven votes gave Robie 61,235; Bolles 59,641; scattering, 2,414. Robie's plurality, 15,245. Robie will have over 10,000 plurality in a total vote of about 140,000. The vote of 1880 gave a total plurality of 103. So the Republican gain this year will be 16,000 on the gubernatorial vote of 1880.

Congressional delegates from this State is solidly Republican. Nelson, Dingley, Jr., Seth I. Milliken and Charles A. Bartelle are elected by good majorities. Tom Reed, in the First District had a close call. At a late hour Monday night the Democrats claimed he was defeated by 300 votes. The returns since, however, indicate he will have a majority of 500.

The Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican.

The temperance people claim that the prohibition amendment has been carried by over 50,000 majority.

Reed, for Congress in the First District, has about 900 plurality. Returns from most places thus far heard from show Republican gains.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 10.—The latest returns show that the Senate will stand thirty-one Republicans and no Democrats. The House, as far as heard from, will have eighty-two Republicans and twenty-one Democrats.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 10.—A horrible and sickening accident occurred at the Ohio Iron Company's Works about 6 o'clock last night.
